

sons had been slain by Bhīmasena, etc. (१११) (VII, 147). Insulted by Karna, Bhīma addressed Arjuna in order to induce the latter to permit him to slay Karna; Arjuna rebuked Karna (१११), and vowed to slay his son Vṛshasena in his presence. Kṛṣṇa congratulated Arjuna (१११), who attributed the victory to Kṛṣṇa; Kṛṣṇa pointed out to Arjuna the results of that day's battle; then he blew Pāñcājanya and went and informed Yudhishtira (VII, 148). Kṛṣṇa congratulated Yudhishtira, who attributed the success to Kṛṣṇa's grace (१११); Kṛṣṇa and Arjuna once more congratulated him (१११); then Bhīma and Sātyaki, whom Yudhishtira congratulated (१११) and embraced (VII, 149). Duryodhana's despondency (α) and cheerless address to Droṇa (β), whom he censured for treating Arjuna leniently; "it seems that Karna only now wishes us victory" (VII, 150). Droṇa's reply to Duryodhana (γ); he vowed to slay all the Pāñcālas before doffing his armour; he asked Duryodhana to tell Açatthāman to avenge himself on the Sakās, etc., even at the risk of his life. Then he proceeded against the Pāñdavas (VII, 151). Duryodhana communicated to Karna his suspicions about Droṇa's sincerity (δ); Karna removed Duryodhana's suspicions of Droṇa (ε), and attributed the ill-success of the Kurus to destiny. Meanwhile the Pāñdava divisions appeared for battle, and a fierce battle ensued (VII, 152).

Jayadrathavimokshana(m) ("the setting free of Jayadratha"). § 10 (Parvasaṅgr.): I, 2, 325 (i.e. Jayadrathavimokshana-parvan).

[Jayadrathavimokshana-parvan] ("the setting free of Jayadratha," the 47th of the minor parvas of Mbhr.). (Cf. Jayadrathavimokshana.) § 523 (cf. Draupadīhar.): Bhīma seized Jayadratha by the hair, and holding him high up in the air thrust him on the ground, etc., and regretted that Yudhishtira had forbidden to kill him. He then with his arrow shaved Jayadratha's head, leaving only five tufts of hair, and made him promise to say in public assemblies, "I am the slave of the Pāñdavas." They then bound him and thrust him into the chariot; then they drove towards the hermitage and presented him to Yudhishtira. Yudhishtira and Draupadī set him free with his army. § 524: Jayadratha went to Gāṅgādvāra, and pleased Śiva so that he deigned to accept his offerings in person and granted him a boon. Jayadratha asked that he might be able to defeat in battle all the five Pāñdavas on their chariots. This Śiva declared to be impossible, as Arjuna (δ) was invincible, and was protected by Kṛṣṇa, who was Vishṇu (ε). Śiva then briefly reminded Jayadratha of four incarnations of Vishṇu (δ). "Thou shalt, however, be able to vanquish for a single day only the rest of Yudhishtira's forces and the four Pāñdavas, but not Arjuna." Then Śiva vanished with Umā, Jayadratha returned home, and the Pāñdavas continued to dwell in Kāmyaka (III, 272).
