

Devasenā, the consort of Kārttikeya. Even on a certain type of coins, the figure presumed to be of the six-headed Kṛttikā, J.N. Banerjea had interpreted it to be the figure of a goddess Lakṣmī with aureole round her head, as quoted by Sharan himself.

629. S.K. Chatterjee, Bhārata Mein Ārya Aura Anārya, p.98.

630. Harṣacarita (Niraṇayasāgara edn. 1897) p.213; Yz. p.34.

631. J.C. Naranga, Yz. p.34.

632. A.S. Altekar, (Kz)² (edn. 1972) p.112.

633. A.L. Basham, Qg. p.98