

Svarbhānu (iv)—a son of Simhikā and born in Bharāṇi; vanquished the sun; his daughter Prabhā was married to Āyu.

Br. II. 24. 83-97, 137; III. 6. 8, 23-4; 8. 77; 67. 1; Vā. 92. 1.

Svarbhānu (v)—Rāhu, the planet;¹ has a dark chariot drawn by eight steeds;² in the army at Tārakāmaya;³ mahā-graha left unskilled with Virocana;⁴ comes out of the sun and enters the moon in Parvas; then from the moon to the sun; comes out from behind and crossing the shadow of the earth forms a circle itself; its place is Bṛhadsthānam full of darkness;⁵ has only one ray.⁶

¹ M. 128. 50. ² Ib. 127. 9; Vā. 52. 71. ³ M. 128. 62; 173. 23. ⁴ Ib. 177. 8; 178. 67. ⁵ Vā. 52. 80-81; 53. 63-65; Vi. II. 12. 21-22. ⁶ Vā. 53. 88.

Svarbhānu (vi)—a son of Vipracitti.

Vi. I. 21. 12.

Svarlokaṃ—(Divam) burnt down by Pralaya fire; one of the seven created worlds;¹ between the sun and the pole star.²

¹ Br. IV. 1. 156; 2. 15; Vā. 23. 84; 30. 98; 49. 148; 100. 160; Vi. VI. 3. 26. ² Ib. II. 7. 18.

Svarvīthi—the queen of Vatsara, and mother of Puṣpārṇa and five other sons.

Bhā. IV. 13. 12.

Svaśrava—a mantrakṛt.

M. 145. 102.

Svasā (i)—a daughter of Vṛkadevī.

Vā. 96. 180.

Svasā (ii)—gave birth to Yakṣas and Rākṣasas.

Vi. I. 21. 25.